Chartered Accountants in India

Introduction

Chartered Accountants are industrious and intelligent. If you possess these qualities, you are perhaps the right person to go for it. A Chartered Accountant is a member of a professional Accountancy Association mainly in the Commonwealth and Ireland. All the countries have their own Accountancy Association which regulates the quality and quantity of these professionals. In India it is the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) which does the job of regulating the profession of Chartered Accountancy. It was set up under the Chartered Accountancy Act of 1949. Those who come out successful in PE-1, (Professional Examination) PE-2 and Final along with completion of two and half years of practical training and a 15 days course on General Management and Communication skills are eligible to apply for the membership of Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. A chartered Accountant holds prestige in the society and earns handsomely.

Courses in Chartered Accountancy:

The courses in Chartered Accountancy are a blend of theoretical education and practical training. The theoretical part includes the passing of PE-1 PE-2 and Final part. But they are also expected to go through 2 and half years of practical training and 15 days course on General management and Communication skills. For appearing in the examination one is supposed to register with the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. The minimum study period for each level of study is 10 months. Exams are held twice a year.

Who is a Chartered Accountant:

On successful completion of these courses one can apply for membership to the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India www.icai.org/icairoot/index.jsp) The Accountant becomes Chartered only after acquiring its membership. A Chartered Accountant is a privileged one over the ordinary ones. For example, statutory Audit under the Companies Act, 1956 Tax Audit under the Income Tax Act can be carried out only by Chartered Accountants.

Career option:

There is no dearth of jobs for Chartered Accountants. After acquiring the membership one can either choose to do public practice or join any organization at the public sector or private sector. Career option for a chartered accountant is therefore varied.

Following are few options open for a chartered accountant.

- General Practice: The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India predicts that audit and standard taxation services would soon be replaced by growing opportunities on relationship based services. The Chartered Accountants are required to assess the risks of the companies designing control system to counter those risks.
- New Assurance and performance measurement services
- Change management: This includes making changes at the ownership, structural and operational levels.
- Stakeholder value creation
- Strategic management
- Finance: The expertise of Chartered Accountants are in high demand in financial administration, Capital markets and international financial regulation
- Financial Reporting
- Tax compliance
- Tax Advice and Planning
- Corporate Finance
- Insolvency and corporate Recovery
- Management consultancy.

Eligibility:

For PE-1: A candidate appearing in 10+2 exam can provisionally register for this exam. The minimum study period is ten months. He or she is supposed to get themselves regularized after passing the 10+2 exam.

For PE-2: The candidate needs to either pass the PE-1/Foundation course or acquire an eligibility certificate for both the groups from the Board of studies.

For Final: The candidate is required to pass the PE-2 / Intermediate exam. and he or she should complete the practical training of two and half years. In addition to that the candidate must also acquire an eligibility certificate from the board of Studies.

Chartered Accountancy (CA) Courses Andhra Pradesh

Accounting and Financing are integral part of any business establishment, be it in the public sector or private sector. A chartered Accountant is therefore highly valued in the enterprise because of their capability to provide complete business solution. In the era of cutting edge competition, a career in Chartered Accountancy is much sought after because they possess the knack of identifying risks and designing control mechanism to counter those risks. Professional advice in taxation is also sought from the Chartered Accountants. Therefore in every state the profession of Chartered Accountancy is much sought after. Andhra Pradesh is no exception.
